The former Bennie Bogals are making preparations to give a big dance at K. M. C. hall next Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dowd, of 214 Division street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl at their home yesterday morning.

A letter from Congressman Smith states that the condition of Miss Alice McClintock, who has been ill at Washington, D. C., for some weeks, suffering with appendicitis, was improving and some hopes are now entertained as to her recovery.—Murphyboro Republican.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Gates entertain several members of the former Bennie Bogal club last evening at their home, 424 Tenth street. Instrumental music, and several selections by the Bennie Bogal quartette were rendered. Refreshments were served and the "old crowd" had a jolly good time.

For some days past much concern has been felt by relatives of a well known young man who has held a responsible position here for some time and who disappeared suddenly and mysteriously shortly after the 1st inst., with some of the funds of his employers. The relatives reside in Tennessee and they fear that he has made away with himself, though this is not believed by those who knew him. The young man was well behaved generally, and had the confidence and good will of many; but it is said he has lately become involved in some of the gambling places in the city and lost considerably more than his salary.

The county commissioners were in session yesterday and attended to routine business. They succeeded in getting all of the old valuelass paper which have been kept for so many years, destroyed and the county's affairs in first-class condition.

The Cotton Belt train in making its point must pass through water or a distance of fifteen miles, and takes nearly two hours to make its run as the water is quite deep in places, nearly up to the car steps.

There has for the past few days been a woman canvassing the city, selling face powders, hair bleaches and cosmetics of various kinds. She is very persistent in her efforts to dispose of the beautifiers and insists that "you certainly need something of this kind," and other similar uncomplimentary remarks providing she fails to sell her wares. There are two young men in Cairo who have evidently met this woman of persuasive attainments and they probably invest liberally in the hair bleaching compound for their once darker locks are now assuming a "Little Lord Fauntleroy" hue and they are the subject of much comment, all of which is not empered with generosity.

Nothing has yet been heard of Frank Lewis, the negro who murdered a man in "wild cat chite," and the identity of the murdered man remains a mystery.

The per capita circulation is now $50.21, the highest point ever reached in this country.

TO ELECT NEW BISHOP

Synod of Episcopal Church Will Meet Next Week in Springfield.

At a meeting of the vestry of the church of the Redeemer, held last night, delegates and alternates were elected to represent the parish at the synod, called at Springfield next Tuesday for the purpose of electing a coadjutor bishop to succeed the late Rt. Rev. Charles R. Hale, bishop of Cairo. It will be remembered that at the regular annual meeting of the diocese, in December of last year, Dr. George Brinley Morgan, of New Haven, Conn., was elected as Bishop of the diocese. The gentleman declined the call and for the purpose of supplying the vacancy another synod will be held. Among the clergymen most prominently mentioned in connection with the office are: Dr. Geo. McCallan Blake, of St. Stephen's church, Providence, R. I., and Rev. A. V. Knight, dean of St. Philip's Pro-cathedral, of Atlanta, Ga. Both of the above-mentioned gentlemen are clergymen of high standing and churchmanship, and it is felt that the election of either will be a fortunate one for the diocese of Springfield.

The following gentlemen were elected to represent the local parish at the Springfield meeting next week: Delegates—Wm. B. Gilbert, Miles Frederick Gilbert, Frank Howe, J. H. Jones and J. W. Wenger. Alternates—A. S. Gallagher, R. P. Robbins, H. S. Candee, Miles S. Gilbert and W. F. "Landerburg." Several of the above named gentlemen will attend the synod, leaving here Monday.

SAW IT IN A VISION

Young Lady Discovers Hidden Treasure in a Dream—Then She Woke Up.

Interest in the hidden treasure of The Bulletin, "planted" last Saturday night and described by an anagram, "Cups to round Anna's Handkerchief," in subsequent issues, increases rather than diminishes and many interesting occurrences in connection therewith are reported to this office. One of the most interesting is the experience of a young lady who after working well into the night in an effort to decipher the sentence retired still pondering upon the cabalistic letters. It is reported that in her sleep she dreamed of the exact location of the cash order. It was plainly to be seen tacked to the transom of the store building No. 219 Eighth street. Soon after daylight the young lady visited the location but without result and the only explanation she has been able to make of the occurrence is in the fact that she negotiated an unusually hearty supper the evening before.

Another prominent young lady made the sentence "The Order is at Hand," and has since been inquiring the location of the place referred to from her numerous gentlemen friends, none of whom are able to give her any information. Two high school girls discovered that the word Nasuter may be spelled from the letters in the anagram and upon walking hurriedly to the corner of Eighth street and Ohio levee their suspicions were strengthened by seeing a prominent gentleman searching among the lumber and material being used in Dr. Grinstead's new building.

Another young lady conceived the impression that the hidden order is located on one of the street cars and spent the day yesterday in scrutinizing the electric railway with an opera glass as they passed her house. Two ladies state that they have decided to consult one of the fortune tellers whose card appears in The Bulletin with a view of profiting by second sight if all human efforts fail.

It begins to look as if the location of the treasure was to remain unknown until announced in the Sunday number of The Bulletin. The validity of the order will expire at 5:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon and unless presented at The Bulletin office before that time it will be worthless as collateral.

FOR A BARDWELL MAN

Goodly Pension Was Secured by the Eloquent Speech of a Kentucky Congressman.

A speech by Congressman Ollie James of the First Kentucky district, before the senate committee on pensions has secured a pension of $72 a month for John Lindsey, of Bardwell, Ky. He was a Kentucky regular in the Spanish-American war, and both his legs were cut off by a street car while he was in New Orleans.

A total disability pension had been refused because the injury was not sustained in "line of duty."

James' eloquence moved Senator Alger to tears and secured the pension.

His speech in behalf of the crippled Bardwell youth is said to have been a model of pathos.

Stages at Cairo April 6, 1903, 37.0.

River Forecasts.

The Ohio.—At Evansville, will continue falling until Friday night or Saturday. At Paducah and CAIRO, will all for an indefinite period, the rate of fall greatly increasing quite rapidly today.

The Tennessee.—From Florence to the mouth, and the Mississippi, from below St. Louis to Cairo, will continue falling.

P. H. SMYTH, Observer.

General River News.

The stage of the river at 4 p. m. yesterday was 48.8, showing a fall of 0.3 in twenty-four hours.

The Stacker Lee arrived from Memphis at 7:45 p. m. yesterday and left an hour later for St. Louis.

The Coal City passed yesterday morning with coal for New Orleans. She had three model barges loaded with manufactured steel.

The Island Queen passed down to Memphis at 2:45 p. m. yesterday with out landing. She favored a large crowd on the levee with two or three selections on her caliope as she passed. She will be here on the 12th under the auspices of the K. M. C. C.

The river came to a stand and began to fall much quicker than in former high waters of the present stage. It usually remains stationary for several days, there being sufficient backwater running into it to hold it. This condition is probably due to the fact that the Mississippi river contributes more water than in former high stages, and began to fall at the same time as the Ohio and had not a supply of backwater to add to that in the bottoms sufficient to check the fall.

The officers of the McGregor landed a lot of cattle in the water at Donaldson's point, which were left to their fate.

Special dispatch to The Bulletin.

Dubuque, Ia., April 6.—Capt. Beadle, seventy-eight years old, died here today. He had been on the river fifty-eight years. He was one of the prominent pilots on the Missouri river in the early days of steamboating on that stream. He put in one season on the Yukon river.

The promoters of the new town, which is to be laid out on Dr. Cary's farm near Bird's Point, which has been mentioned in this column, are getting things into shape. The refusal of the railroads at Bird's Point to put up their tracks to the grade of the levee, which was built up to the roads by the county board, leaves Bird's Point without protection above 19 feet on the Cairo gauge. The business houses at Bird's Point are all on leased ground and the owners will not sell a lot. This condition, with the annual menace of the river, has caused the people to look for relief. There is to be a levee built back of Bird's Point, connecting at either end with the levee already completed, which will leave Bird's Point outside. Part of this connecting levee was built last fall by French & Lee, and the remainder of the route has been surveyed by the government engineers and will be built this summer. Jeff Byrne is the leading business man of the Point and he and Florence Traylor, a farmer, are backing the new town. Byrne wants permanent and larger buildings for his business and does not want to build on leased ground. With the protection from overflow by a system of levees his section of the country is preparing to go forward and a spirit of progress possesses the people. The old regime of living from one overflow to another in temporary shacks has passed, and it is the purpose of the people to build a permanent city and develop this rich country. This new town will not have a fetitious name like Henderson's Mound, for instance, which is now entirely overlooked, but will have a name suggestive of the new conditions. It will be called Enterprise. Enterprise, Mississippi county, Mo. How does that look?

An Impassable Barrier.

When an Arabian woman does not wish her husband to enter her apartments she puts her slippers outside the door. This is an ancient and inviolable law, albeit an unwritten one, that he would be a bold man who would transgress it.

Buys Welsh Coal.

The Russian government contracts yearly for 50,000 tons of Welsh coal to be delivered at Port Arthur before July 1.

Work for Polish Women.

Polish women are engaged at work as navvies on the dams now being constructed near Bredstedt, Schleswig, Prussia.

LACE PEDDLERS HERE

Cairo Ladies Are Being Offered "Exceptional Values" in the Dainty Network.

A year or two ago Cairo was visited by some women lace peddlers, who sold "genuine Irish point lace" for the reasonable sum of 50 cents per yard. It was "lace" that had been exhibited at the Pan-American exposition and had been purchased by them at their own figures on account of being perhaps, slightly soiled.

Many Cairo ladies took advantage of the "bargains," only to find that they had been duped, as the lace was of a cheap quality and had been purchased of a local merchant for a few cents per yard. After the departure of the peddlers, a complete expose was made by the newspapers, and so careful were lady shoppers regarding purchases of lace, that it was with difficulty the home merchants could dispose of this essential feminine frieze.

Once again have the lace venders descended upon Cairo, four
